Exploring the Contents of the Current and Pending Form

Have you ever wondered why a Current and Pending (C&P) form is required for some proposals? Or what number should you list for the award amount? And what do you do when a PI receives notification that a proposal will be awarded but OSP hasn't received anything about the award? The May OSP Roundtable will provide answers to your questions about the content of the C&P form and an opportunity to discuss these issues with GCOs who submit proposals that include C&P forms.

Our goal is for the Roundtable sessions to be a conversation that answers your questions about the topic for that session, so please send me your questions about the current and pending requirements prior to the Roundtable session so we can focus the presentation materials on the areas that are of interest to those who plan to attend.

We look forward to seeing you May 21 at the Vet School!
